

What will I achieve?

By the end of the course I will be able to:

1. outline the chief events of the Berlin blockade
2. comment on the scale of the effort involved
3. assess the risks involved on both sides
4. decide whether to do some more detailed personal research

What teaching methods will be used and will there be work outside of the class?

- Mainly illustrated presentations and the consequent opportunities to discuss the topics presented.

What kind of feedback can I expect from the tutor?

- You will have opportunities to discuss your progress with your tutor
- Students usually do find materials that I have not seen. They bring them in and provoke further discussions. This can be amongst the most valuable parts of the course.

What else do I need to know? Is there anything I need to bring?

- interest and questions

Pre-course work, reading and information sources

- No pre reading or pre course work is required

Possible next steps after this course including career opportunities if appropriate

- Progress to another WEA course
- Progress to a course with another provider
- This is "modern history" and there is a plethora of reading matter available.

You can read about your entitlements and responsibilities as a WEA student in our leaflet, Student Handbook here <http://www.wea.org.uk/learn-wea/student-support> This includes information on fees, learning support and financial support. As part of your course you accept a Learning Agreement. Full details of the Learning Agreement can be found on our website at <http://www.wea.org.uk/about-us/policies>.
