

Do I need any particular skills or experience?

What will I achieve?

By the end of the course I will be able to:

1. describe some of the numerous mutual interactions between music and art, and how these have led to so much shared terminology;
2. explain the way in which the remarkable psychological condition known as synaesthesia (in which any one of the five senses may be experienced in terms of one or more of the other four - e.g. someone might hear a sequence of musical sounds and simultaneously perceive them in terms of colour, shape or texture as well as simply pure sound) has contributed to the creativity of particular painters and musicians;
3. explain the enormous influence of painters such as Turner in unleashing the forces of European musical Romanticism, especially in France.

What teaching methods will be used and will there be work outside of the class?

- The WEA tutor will use a range of different teaching and learning methods and encourage you and the group to be actively involved in your learning
- At the end of each session, the tutor will make suggestions for further listening.

What kind of feedback can I expect from the tutor?

- A range of informal activities will be used by the tutor to see what you are learning which may include quizzes, question and answer, small projects and discussion
- You will have opportunities to discuss your progress with your tutor
- You will be encouraged to share your work with the group and discuss your learning
- You will be encouraged to consider other students work and give your opinions and suggestions

What else do I need to know? Is there anything I need to bring?

- It would be helpful if you had access to the internet (Mobile phone, tablet or computer at home or through a library etc.)

Learning with the WEA

WEA courses increasingly make use of the rich variety of educational tools and material available on the internet and from digital devices. The WEA's digital learning platform, Canvas will play an increasing role in all WEA courses to provide resources or support, or to conduct lessons, enable assessment, provide learner feedback and for other activities for individuals away from the course. It is helpful, although not essential if you have access to a computer or smartphone to support your course.

You can read about your entitlements and responsibilities as a WEA student in our leaflet, Student Handbook here <http://www.wea.org.uk/learn-wea/student-support> This includes information on fees, learning support and financial support.
