Course Aim

This is follow on course from Music Theory for beginners or for those with some knowledge of Music Theory. We will advance our Musical compositional process with new techniques to develop and deepen your practice.

Course Description

A course for those with a background in the basics of Music Theory. We will look at the process of composition and the techniques used to help you create an interesting and piece of Music of your very own. We will analyse Musical compositions from eras of Music History to find out what techniques composers from those eras used to become successful, and learn how to use those processes in our own composition. This course is a fully online with no physical meeting space, accessing the course through Canvas our virtual learning environment and zoom a video conferencing software.

Do I need any particular skills or experience?

What will I achieve?

By the end of the course I will be able to:

1. Use chord inversions in my composition.
2. understand what makes good harmonic musical progression.
3. assimilate musical techniques through the ages into my composition.

4. Learn to modulate in my composition.

What teaching methods will be used and will there be work outside of the class?

- The WEA's digital learning platform, Canvas will be used to provide resources or to support lessons, enable assessment, provide learner feedback and for other activities for individuals away from the course. If you want to understand more about our digital learning platform please visit: <http://bit.ly/WEAonline>

What kind of feedback can I expect from the tutor?

- You will be able to keep a record of your progress and achievement using photos, audio, text or documents uploaded into the WEA's digital learning platform, WEA Canvas.
- Your tutor will provide written, text and audio feedback recorded in WEA Canvas, WEA's digital learning platform.
- A range of informal activities will be used by the tutor to see what you are learning which may include quizzes, question and answer, small projects and discussion
- You will have opportunities to discuss your progress with your tutor
- You will be encouraged to share your work with the group and discuss your learning
- You will be encouraged to consider other students work and give your opinions and suggestions
- There will be a number of tasks appropriate to your course such as written work, creating art or craft, video, photography or small projects. Some of these may be marked to help you progress

What else do I need to know? Is there anything I need to bring?
